

PROGRAMME - Annual Student Research Conference EUGLOH, Global Health in Humanities and Social Sciences

Thursday 30th September 2021 (CEST, Paris Time)

8:30	Welcome at La MSH Paris-Saclay - Breakfast
9 - 9:15	Introduction Yara Hodroj (MSH Paris-Saclay, CNRS) Sandrine Lacombe, Vice-présidente des Relations Internationales, Paris-Saclay University
Keynote session
9:15 - 9:45	The law clinic "One Health-Une Seule Santé": a practical application for global health , Aloïse Quesne, Maître de conférences in Private Law at Paris-Saclay University – Evry Val d’Essonne University, Head of the law clinic “One-Health-Une Seule Santé”
Data Health and Privacy
9:45 - 10:30	Manuel Simões (Porto University, Faculty of Engineering) Sandra Charreire-Petit (Paris-Saclay University, Faculty of Jean Monnet, Management)	Ngozi Paschaline NWEBONYI, Porto University	Public views about involvement in decision-making regarding health data sharing, use and reuse. ¹
		Kailiang MA, UPSaclay	Rethinking citizen health data protection within the corporate social responsibility framework in the context of Covid-19 ¹
Healthcare organisations
10:30 - 11:30	Manuel Simões (Porto University, Faculty of Engineering) Sandra Charreire-Petit (Paris-Saclay University, Faculty of Jean Monnet, Management) Jean-Luc Moriceau (Paris-Saclay University, Institut Mines-Télécom Business School, Management)	Annika LANG, LMU	Person-centred support function in residential homes for people with intellectual disabilities and challenging behaviours ¹
		Guillaume CUNY, UPSaclay	Is it possible to learn Ethics of care? ¹
		Isabel PIFARRÉ COUTROT, UPSaclay	Telemedicine, a disruptive medical practice at a distance? Learning processes in general practice in France and in the United Kingdom. ¹
The impacts of Covid-19 on health and well-being
11:30 - 12:30	Baptiste Coulmont (Paris-Saclay University, ENS Paris-Saclay, Sociology) Jean-Luc Moriceau (Paris-Saclay University, Institut Mines-Télécom Business School, Management)	Diana MOREIRA, Porto University	Mandatory reporting of domestic violence during the Covid-19 pandemic ¹
		Julia SMITH, UPSaclay	Characterization of health risk increase induced by the Covid-19 crisis ²
		Bruno Rodrigues ALVES, Porto University	Trends, opportunities and risks of searching for health information on the internet. ¹
12:30 - 13:30	Lunch break
Environmental challenges
13:30 - 14:30	Gonçalo Lopes (Porto University, Faculty of Architecture)	Mathilde DEGOIS, UPSaclay	Water pollution and infant health in India ¹

	José de Sousa (Paris-Saclay University, Faculty of Jean Monnet, Economics) Baptiste Coulmont (Paris-Saclay University, ENS Paris-Saclay, Sociology)	Ho-Dieu-Linh NGUYEN, UPSaclay Alix Rouillé, UPSaclay	Does economics growth and trade openness impact CO2 emissions? Evidence from ASEAN countries ² Local norm nudge and collective composting. ²
Health prevention
14:30 -15:30	José de Sousa (Paris-Saclay University, Faculty of Jean Monnet, Economics)	Ana QUARESMA, Porto University	Stressful life events as risk factors for heart disease and stroke: a study among Portuguese older adults. ²
	Annie Banikema (Paris-Saclay University, Evry Val d'Essonne University, Management)	Thibault RICHARD, UPSaclay	The scientific value of self-reported well-being: between heuristic and logical interference ¹
	Maria Paula Santos (Porto University, Faculty of Sports)	Soraya VASCONCELOS, Porto University	Women and work in the hospital environment: A short review. ²
15:30 -16:00	Break
Nutrition and Children
16:00 -16:35	Annie Banikema (Paris-Saclay University, Evry Val d'Essonne University, Management) Maria Paula Santos (Porto University, Faculty of Sports)	Javzan BADARCH, Szeged University	Determinants of fruit and vegetable consumption among in-school students in Mongolia. ¹
		Isabel MAIA, Porto University	Children’s reports of food insecurity and a posteriori-defined dietary patterns: evidence from a Portuguese population-based birth cohort. ²
Health Ethics
16:35 -17:15	Maria José Oliveira (Porto University, Institute of Biomedical Sciences Abel Salazar) Elisa Keating (Porto University, Faculty of Medicine)	Sandra GOMES, Porto University	Research ethics and integrity among Portuguese medical students: Development and validation of an assessment instrument. ¹
		Kócsó MARTIN, Szeged University	The right to be informed. ¹
eHealth and Diagnosis
17:15 -17:50	Maria José Oliveira (Porto University, Institute of Biomedical Sciences Abel Salazar) Elisa Keating (Porto University, Faculty of Medicine)	Alberto PINHEIRA & Ines DUTRA, Porto University	Interpretable models using machine learning methods to differentiate mental disorders ¹
		Jorge RODRIGUES, Frederic COEHLO, Carolina PORTO, & Regina SANTOS, Porto University	mHealth for depression assistance ²
17:50 -18:00	Closing

*Each presentation (10-minute direct online or 5-minute pre-recorded video) will be followed by a 10-minute discussion with the jury members.

1: 10 min. direct online

2: 5 min. pre-recorded video